AMENDMENTS TO CITY'S CHARTER

Several That Will be Made Soon.

The Amendments Given So Anyone Who Wishes To Do So Can Make Objection To Their Being Enacted Into Law—One Provides That Funds From Sale of Water Shall Be Kept Separate From Other Funds.

To the Editor:

A number of gentlemen have asked me to draw some amendments to our city charter recently adopted at an election by the people.

Senator Hobgood has requested that such amendments as are to be adopted shall be given to him in the form of a single bill. It is fair and entirely proper that any one who proposes an amendment should give public notice of it so that if there are objections to it the objectors may be heard.

Section fifty-two provided for the recall of all elective officers in the manner pointed out. I am inclined to think that this should not apply to the city judge who merely administers the law, and from whose rulings there is always the right of appeal to the Superior court. The point has been made that there was no expressed provision that the commissioners should be required to devote their time to the discharge of their public duties to the exclusion of private matters. I think that any man who accepts the salary, provided for in the charter for his services as a commissioner, would feel bound under the terms of the charter to give his entire time to the discharge of his public duties, and that by inference this is required of him. It will remove any question, however, to insert a provision to this effect.

One section of the charter provided for three-fourths vote of the commissioners. This was written when it was contemplated that there would be four commissioners and it would be well enough to make the act consistent by providing for a majority vote of the commissioners instead of a three-fourths vote. This change was made (before the act was introduced) in a number of sections but was overlooked in one section.

It was suggested before the election that the preference ought to be given to the waterworks system over streets and other city departments, to the funds derived from the sale of water, and I agree with this view.

It has been suggested that section twenty-seven of the charter ought to be amended so as to except the fair ground from its operation. This section gives to the Board of Commissioners the power to make ordinances that affect the fair grounds, as well as other territory, when the ordinances are made for "sanitation purposes, or for the protection of the property of the city." Personally I think that this provision is reasonable and proper and I see no danger of its causing any injustice to the Central Carolina Fair Association. It does not provide for any unreasonable policing of the fair ground, or impose upon the city any duty in preserving order out there, or doing any thing except to protect public health and the city property. I can imagine many contingencies on account of which the city authorities might want to protect the public health by having a voice as to what should be done in cases of contagious or infectious diseases, or of conditions which would contaminate streams, and there are possibly conditions that might cause the city to desire to interpose for the protection of its property and particularly its water supply. I think the apprehension of the gentlemen interested in the fair association is probably due to the erroneous idea that this section is broader in its scope than in fact it is. For the reasons stated I have not proposed to amend section twenty-seven in the bill I have drawn.

I hand you herewith a copy of that bill.

There are some criticism of the charter made by those who are entirely ignorant of its provisions which I have not noticed.

The Charlotte Observer of today has a communication by a correspondent who finds a "mare's nest." I do not know who wrote this article, but I am sure that any one who is entirely familiar with the provisions of the charter can make [illegible] admit, if he is fair and reasonable, that there is no foundation for the statement. It is easy enough to criticise and particularly when the critic does not divulge his name.

It may be that the wise course would be to ignore the suggestion if there is any confusion about when the charter goes into effect. The charter went into effect upon its adoption by the people and the declaration by the Board of Aldermen of the result. According to the provisions of the charter, however, the first election of the Board of Commissioners is to be in May, 1911, and it is expressly provided that preparatory to the first election the mayor and Board of Aldermen are to perform the duties prescribed for the Board of Commissioners after they are elected and once qualified. Only the provisions of the old charter and the laws in conflict with the new are repealed, and inasmuch as it clearly appears that the duties are not conferred upon the commissioners before they are elected and qualified it is absurd to suggest that it was contemplated that the Board Aldermen were to cease to exist and were relieved of the performance of their duties before the terms of office of the commissioners began.

February 16, 1911.

E. J. JUSTICE.

A Bill to be Entitled "An Act to Amend 'An Act to Incorporate the City of Greensboro and to Repeal Its Present Charter and All Laws in Conflict With This Act,' Ratified January 17, 1911."

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That Section Fifty-three of the act referred to in the caption of this act be amended by adding thereto the following: "That it shall be the duty of the mayor and each of the commissioners to devote their time respectively to the discharge of the duties of their respective offices, to the exclusion of their private affairs and private business, and no member of the Board of Commissioners shall hold any other public office."

Sec. 2. That Section Fifty-two of said act be and the same is hereby amended by inserting in line one thereof after the word "office" and before the word "may" the words "except judge of the Municipal court."

Sec. 3. That said act be amended by striking out of Sec. 26, sub-section "W" the words "three-fourths," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "majority."

Sec. 4. That said act be amended by adding at the end of Sec. 90 thereof the following: "It shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners, and of the commissioner of public accounts and finances, in the collection of taxes and revenues of the city and of the city treasurer to keep separate the revenues derived from the waterworks system in Greensboro, and to make, out of the funds so received, in preference to other city works and expenditures for other purposes, provision for the maintenance and adequate up keep and permanent improvement of the waterworks system, and any surplus derived from the waterworks system after making proper provisions for such waterworks system shall be used for other city purposes.

Sec. 5. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

BALL GAMES HERE.

The Quakers To Meet Several Teams in Greensboro This Spring.

The baseball schedule for Guilford College has been arranged and the Quakers will play several games in Greensboro at Cone Park. The teams they will play here and the dates for the games follow:

March 30, Lafayette at Greensboro.

April 15, University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

April 17, Davidson College at Greensboro.

April 24, A. & M. College at Greensboro.

Verdict For Defendant.

The major portion of yesterday in Superior court was taken up with the case of Acme Cement & Plaster Co. vs. Greensboro Wood Fibre & Paster Co. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The case of Standard Mirror Company vs. Philadelphia Casualty Company was taken up and will likely take up all of today. The plaintiff is seeking to recover $10,000 damages. There is an able array of counsel on each side and the case is being hotly contested.

You must not fail to see the little Mexican water carriers. The party which leaves here Friday evening, Feb. 17, will visit them. Be sure to meet them at West Market annex at eight o'clock. 1t

COLLEGE Y.W.C.A. WORKERS MEET

In Session at Guilford College.

Representative Attendance From Associations of the Several Women's Colleges In State—Miss Cutler, of National Y. W. C. A. Board Spoke Last Night—Banquet Followed—Sessions Through Today and Tonight.

The Students Council of the Carolina division of the Young Women's Christian Association of women's colleges convened at Guilford College last evening and will continue in session for several days. All of yesterday delegates from the several colleges were arriving and the attendance is most representative.

Present for the meetings of the council are delegates from the Young Women's Christian Association of the following institutions: Meredith College, Elizabeth College, Elon College, Peace Institute, Greensboro Female College, Albemarle Institute, Presbyterian College, State Normal College and South Presbyterian College.

The first meeting was held last evening in Memorial Hall, the address of welcome being by Dr. L. L. Hobbs, president of Guiltord College. The response was by Miss Littleton, of Meredith College, Raleigh. The principal address of the evening was by Miss Cutler, of the National Y. W. C. A. Board, who make a highly interesting and instructive talk on association work in general, touching especially on the good being done by the college associations.

Following the meeting the annual banquet was served in New Garden hall, this social event being largely attended. A number of toasts were happily responded to by various workers.

The meeting will continue through today and tonight and each session will be highly interesting to all and the addresses will no doubt instill considerable enthusiasm into the hearts of the delegates of the institutions represented.

FOR TAX COMMISSION

Representative Carr, of Durham, Introduces Bill Providing For State Board of Equilization Also.

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—Speaker Dowd convened the House at 10 o'clock. Prayer by Rev. A. J. Moncrief, of the Baptist Tabernacle.

General bills favorably reported from committees: Amend the charter of the Baptist Orphanage; amend charter of Black Mountain Railway Co.; incorporate Forsyth & Yadkin Railroad Co.; amend charter of Salem; provide state boards of trade reported without prejudice; amend the Revisal relative to freight rates; regular rates for tickets on railroads.

Resolution of condolence at the death of ex-Senator N. A. McLean was received from the Senate and put on its immediate passage under suspension of rules and in silence by a rising vote. This was on motion of Representative Doughton.

Carr, of Durham: Create a state tax commission and state board of equalization. Five hundred copies ordered printed.

The Horne bill for a million dollar fireproof state administration building came up and on the suggestion that it had not been acted on by a full committee of the committee on appropriations when it was announced to have a unanimous favorable report, it was re-referred to this committee. In connection with the discussion Chairman Turlington stated that while he had declined to make the favorable report on the strength of the very small attendance at the joint meeting that reported the two bills favorably, he was himself fully conversed to the provisions of the bill.

Mrs. Martha Farlow Dead.

Mrs. Martha Jane Farlow died yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock at her home, 435 North Greene street, following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Farlow was 78 years of age and is survived by several children. The remains will be interred at Union church, Randolph county, today.

Have you ever been to Mexico? If not, join the party which leaves the city on Friday evening, Feb. 17, at 8 o'clock. Meet us at the West Market Sunday School annex.

NO ACTION ON BOND ISSUE BILL

Measure Causes a Lively Discussion.

Put Off By Senate After Over An Hour Had Been Consumed In Arguing For and Against Million Dollar Building—Farm Life Schools Special Order For This Morning—Bill to Ratify Greensboro Street Lighting Contract.

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—President Newland convened the Senate 10 o'clock, Rev. H. M. North, of Edenton Street Methodist church, offering prayer.

Senator Graham offered a resolution of respect for the late Col. N. A. McLean, of Lumberton, and it was unanimously adopted by a rising vote, and sent to the House by a special messenger.

Senator Ivie arose to a question of personal privilege and called attention to the report of the state treasurer, which he charged was unfair to certain counties in the state by reason of the fact that it did not give those counties credit for the taxes paid direct into the state treasury as well as by sheriffs, thus placing these counties in the pauper list, when they should not be so called. Senator Long, arising to a question of personal privilege, said he wanted to be classed with the plaintiffs in this case, as his county had suffered the humiliation of the name "pauper" unjustly.

Senator Bassett felt sure ample justice would be done to all counties in a revised report which he understood was being prepared and when disposition is made of a joint resolution on this subject now in the hands of the committee on propositions and grievances.

Consideration of the special order—the Boyden building bill authorizing a million dollar bond issue—was resumed and Senator Boyden presented statements showing the insecure condition of the old buildings now in use and giving data pertaining to the proposed structure. He made an earnest appeal in behalf of his bill.

Senator Graham offered an amendment providing that no additional ground shall be bought. He thought it would be better to acquire other property surrounding Capitol Square.

Senator Rascoe withdrew his amendment offered yesterday regarding inquiry as to the price of the property on the square north of the capitol.

Senator Bassett made an extended argument for the bill, submitting figures showing the valuation of all the state's property to be about $12,000,0000 and its debts about $7,000,000.

Senator Baggett sent forward an amendment leaving the appointment of the building commission to the governor, president of the Senate and speaker of the House of Representatives.

Senator Starbuck withdrew his amendment offered yesterday and sent forward another providing that the new building should be erected on land already owned by the state.

Senator Brown made a vigorous speech against spending $1,000,000 for the new building, declaring that $250,000 would be sufficient to provide adequate room for all the departments for years to come.

Senator Hobgood spoke for the bill and Senator Barham offered an amendment naming the bond issue at $500,000.

Senator Kitchin also opposed the bill and said his people were against bond issues. He urged the adoption of his amendment leaving the question to a vote of the people at the next general election and claimed that the state has other needs that are far more pressing than erecting a million dollar building.

The building bill special order was displaced at 12 o'clock by the special order—Senator Cobb's bill to establish state farm-life schools.

A joint resolution offered by Senator Cobb was adopted appointing three senators to attend the funeral of the late Col. N. A. McLean, at Lumberton, Friday. Senators Bellamy, Boyden and McLaughlin were appointed.

Senator Cobb read a lengthy statement in support of his farm-life schools bill, which provides that the state shall appropriate $2,500 to any county raising a like amount for buildings and equipment. Senators Baggett and Long also made long arguments for the bill and on motion of Senator Bassett the special order was displaced for the regular business.

SERIOUS FIRE IS NARROWLY AVERTED

Only the persistent efforts of the police force in searching for a fire in the old Benbow building prevented what would have no doubt been a disastrous fire last night. About 10 o'clock a roomer in the building over Bernau's Jewelry store smelled smoke and notified the police. A diligent search was made at the time, but no fire was found. The members of the force kept on the lookout and this morning shortly after 2 o'clock Sergeant Jones and Officer Iseley saw that the fire was under Mr. Bernau's store. Mr. Bernau was called up and it was found that the heating apparatus had ignited the floor, through the cement covering. The fire had been eating away for about four hours and was blazing when located. The Steamer Company was called out and the chemicals soon extinguished the flames. Had the fire gotten under good headways the entire building would have no doubt been burned to the ground, despite every effort the firemen could have made.

AN APPEAL

Telegram Readers Are Urged To Help the Famine Sufferers In China—Two Dollars Will Save a Life.

The following has been received from the Seattle Commercial Club and is printed in the hope that it may result in contributions being made for the benefit of the famine sufferers:

"You are perhaps familiar with the work which this club, co-operating with the Red Cross Society, is conducting for the relief of the famine sufferers in China.

"More than a million people are starving at this time and will need aid for many months. Those on the ground and familiar with the situation, state that two dollars contributed now will save the life of some man, woman or child. Will you not appeal to your readers to lend us their assistance in raising the funds needed for the work which we have taken in hand?

"Contributions of any amount will be acceptable and will help in a humanitarian work of the very first importance. They should be made to the order of the Seattle Commercial Club, Seattle, Washington, and those contributing may rest assured that their gifts will be used in the most effective and economical way.

"Thanking you in advance for any aid you may give us in this matter and with best wishes, I am,

"Your very truly, R. R. Wilson, Secretary China Relief Committee."

Escaped From Workhouse.

A message was received yesterday afternoon stating that Mrs. N. G. Good and Hattie Eubanks, two white women were serving a sentence at the workhouse for vagrancy, had made their escape from the institution.

The Boy Scouts.

There will be a meeting of the Boy Scouts tonight at 7:30 at the Carnegie library. All the boys who have signed applications for membership and all others interested are asked to be present.

New Bills.

Hobgood: Authorize the aldermen of Greensboro to turn over surplus of a special fund to the general fund; also provide for the maintenance of the A. & M. College fo rthe Colored Race and erect new buildings; also ratify contract of Greensboro for lighting streets and authorize the sale of electric lighting plant.

The House having failed to concur on the bills taxing dogs in Caswell county, erecting a Confederate monument in Hertford county and prohibiting the sale of near-beer, the president appointed members to serve on conference committees.

The Senate at 2 o'clock adjourned until 10 o'clock Friday morning when the special order—State farm-life schools bill—will again be taken up.

It is understood that the friends of the Boyden building bill will prepare and present tomorrow a substitute calling for a bond issue of $500,000 instead of $1,000,000.

MR. COAPMAN AND MERCHANTS

Will Discuss Freight Rates Tonight.

Traffic Manager Green To Also Be Present At the Meeting, Which Will Be Held in Guilford Hotel Reception Room—Every Member of the Merchants' Association Is Requested To Be Present and Hear the Matter Discussed.

Members of the Greensboro Merchants' Association, who have long been considering the problem of unjust freight rates to Greensboro as compared to the rates to other cities, were delighted yesterday afternoon when it was learned that Mr. E. H. Coapman, vice president and general manager of the Southern Railway Company, and Mr. J. A. Greene, traffic manager of the company, would be in the city tonight to discuss the matter with the members of the association with a view of remedying the trouble.

Messrs. Coapman and Green will arrive in their special car attached to train No. 35 and will meet with the merchants at 8 o'clock in the reception room of the Guilford hotel. President Phoenix requests that every member of the association who is interested in the effort to secure better freight rates for Greensboro be present this evening to hear the matter discussed.

For some time the freight rate committee of the association has been trying to get Mr. Coapman in the city and have a face to face talk with him, believing that by making him thoroughly understand the situation as it exists relief can be secured quicker than by trying to force the company into submission. This committee has gathered together a formidable array of proof that Greensboro is being unjustly treated by the Southern in the matter of freight rates and if Messrs. Coapman and Green can give a good reason why these unjust rates should continue in force then the committee will no doubt want to resign.

MUSIC GREATLY ENJOYED

Large Audience Heard Most Enjoyable Program At Reformed Church Last Night.

The First Reformed church was filled to overflowing last night for the musical event arranged under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The Greensboro Male Chorus had charge of the program and the selections were greatly enjoyed. The quarter numbers were especially enjoyed. A silver offering was taken at the door and a snug sum realized by the ladies. The ladies request The Telegram to express their thanks to the members of the chorus, and especially Prof. Hamilton, for the efforts put forth in preparing such an excellent and enjoyable program. They also thank the audience for their presence and the offering taken.

Permit to Build.

Building Inspector Milton yesterday issued a permit to Mr. T. E. Wharton for the erection of a six room cottage on Blandwood avenue. The estimated cost is $3,000.

THE GOOD ROADS MEETING TOMORROW

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the opera house there will be a mass meeting of Guilford citizens interested in advancing the good roads interests of the county. Mr. W. L. Spoon, of Raleigh, will make an address on good roads building and following the address there will be a number of short talks by local good roads enthusiasts. Mr. Spoon will give a practical demonstration on the streets of Greensboro with a split log drag, which, Mr. Spoon states, is one of the simplest and best devices used in keeping dirt roads in passable condition. It is urged that every citizen in the county who is interested in better roads attend this meeting.

JUST
IT CURES

Rheumatism and Blood Diseases
The cause of rheumatism is excess uric acid in the blood. To cure rheumatism this acid must be expelled from the system. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with oils and liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Cures Rheumatism To Stay Cured.
Science has discovered a perfect and complete cure called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected marvelous cures. Rheumacide removes the cause, gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the bowels and kidneys. Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1; in the tablet form at 25c. and 50c., by mail. Booklet free. Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

RUM-PROOF BRAIN LEFT TO SCIENCE

Philadelphia Record.

In order to give science an opportunity to determine why alcohol never affected his brain, Jules Rosendale, a well-known writer and linguist, of No. 3135 Diamond street, who died yesterday morning, in the Samaritan hospital after an attack of uraemia, directed in his will that his brain and stomach be given for analysis to the Wister Institute of Anatomy of the University of Pennsylvania. Rosendale, who was in his 76th year, had an extraordinary capacity for intoxicants, and, although he imbibed freely of them all his life, often consuming twice the amount that intoxicate an ordinary man, it is said that he was never inebriated. Various specialists, whom he had consulted for the purpose of having the peculiar faculty explained, were baffled by the phenomenon, and to them he declared his intention, for the benefit of science, if possible, to have the mystery solved after his death. This unique provision is contained in his will, as follows:

"Notify the Wister Institute of Anatomy of the University of Pennsylvania to remove my brain and stomach, before cremation, for scientific investigation, especially to learn why alcoholic drink, no matter how strong, never had any effect upon my brain."

Rosendale named William Klopfer, of No. 1528 North Seventeenth street, as executor of his estate. Mr. Klopfer, who is a member of the firm of Klopfer & Hass, at 141-143 North Second street, and was a close friend of Rosendale, stated yesterday that he would see that the will was carried out in every detail.

"It was the life-long wonderment of Mr. Rosendale," said Mr. Klopfer, 'that he could drink a quart of whiskey and be entirely unaffected. He seldom drank anything bu t rye whiskey, but no matter what he drank nor how much, it had absolutely no effect upon him, He had long cherished the idea of bequeathing his brain and stomach to science, in order that the non-effect of alcohol might be studied.

"Mr. Rosendale was once wealthy, but his estate gradually diminished, and I do not know how much it is worth. He honored me by making me his executor, and I will carry out his last wishes in every particular."

BRITAIN'S NEW COINAGE.

New King Appears in Bas-Relief On Face of Each Piece.

London Cor. N. Y. World.

Throughout the length and breadth of the British Empire there are issuing beautiful bright coins signalizing the reign of the present monarch, his Majesty King George V. There are yellow guineas, gold pound pieces, crowns and half crowns, silver shillings, copper pence and farthings.

It is a great success for the makers of coins. Most of the men in the mints have seen three successive coin issues—that of Queen Victoria, King Edward and now the present King. The new coins are by far the finest product turned out in a century. They are very popular with the people, particularly so because of the great popularity of the "sailor King."

The engraving and designing of the coins are by Bertram Mackennal, A. R. A. On the face of each coin appears, in relief, his Majesty. Circling the figure are the words, "George V. D. G. Britt, O. Rex F. F. Ind. Imp."

The obverse side varies somewhat. Some coins have the popular view of King George on horseback, as he is often seen in the Row. Others depict the seated Brittania, and on still others is the crown with the lion surmounting.

Backache, Rheumatism, Sleeplessness

Result from disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped others, they will help you. Mrs. J. B. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "For a long time I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had severe backaches and felt all played out. After taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills my backache is gone and where I used to lie awake with rheumatic pains I now sleep in comfort. Foley's Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me." Try them now. Howard Gardner.

DOCTORS PRESCRIBE
the celebrated Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup frequently, because it is the best for colds, coughs, croup and bronchial troubles. Many doctors know that this valuable remedy is a real doctor's prescription and that an untried, off-hand prescription will not cure so easily, promptly and thoroughly as

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup

Doctor L. A. Shattuck, 344 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y., states: "I am using and prescribing Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup myself with most gratifying results. No better formula could be made for catarrhal or bronchial coughs, colds and, in fact, all diseases of the respiratory organs. Its soothing and healing effects are instantaneous and permanent. It is the most effective cough medicine that I have ever used."

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE.
To convince you that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure coughs and colds we will send at once a trial bottle, free, if you will write for it and mention this paper.
A. C. MEYER & CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Don't Take a Substitute: It is foolish and dangerous to experiment when you can get a pleasant, prompt and positive remedy like Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price, only 25c.

The Famous Rayo
Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

A Blackberry Craze

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Hawkinsville is a village in the shadow of a certain New England mountain. It is called the laziest place in its state, and rightly so. Ten years ago a stranger came along and gave it its deathblow, and in a rather queer way.

There was a tavern at Hawkinsville. There was little need of one, as very few strangers ever found the place, but there was one, and it was kept by a lazy man. There was a blacksmith shop, and its owner was lazy. It was the same with the butcher, the cooper and others. Laziness and content prevailed.

Just why this laziness should have irritated a traveler who rested at the tavern for a few days was a puzzle. He was not in the best of health, and he wanted peace and rest, but the laziness and serenity of others appeared to gall him. The weather was hot, and of an afternoon about 200 men would occupy the long veranda of the hotel.

It was about time for the blackberry season to open. The mountain sides and the fringes of the highways were thick with blackberry bushes, and the crop of berries promised to be unusually large that season. It was from seeing a freckled faced boy with a basket of berries on his arm that the stranger must have got his idea. The landlord was lazy. His son, who waited on the table, was lazy. The stranger called them into consultation. He first swore them to secrecy. Then he admitted to being a resident of Philadelphia and a wine dealer. He had invented a new champagne, and the basis of it was blackberry wine. He was up in that blackberry country to secure it.

The lazy landlord lazily figured, but his figures proved to him that he could make more profit in one day picking berries than running his tavern for sixty. Four dollars per day were his figures, and there were four of them to pick and press. The four started out next morning. Yes, they let some of their friends in on the ground floor. That was the reason why Hawkinsville got the blackberry craze. In two days it had everybody wild.

There is no man so lazy that he won't pick blackberries. The bushes are high, and you don't have to bend over. In some cases you can sit down and pick. All you have to do is to reach out a hand. You can fall asleep, take a refreshing nap and then wake up and go to picking again. The champion lazy men of Hawkinsville got a move on them. Four dollars a day and they could keep together and talk as they picked! The women went out. The children went out. Old grandfathers and grandmothers went out. A certain citizen who had been told that he would die within three days braced up and lived two weeks in order to give his family a chance to go berrying.

When about forty people are engaged in hunting the blackberry there must be results. They came in at night with full baskets and pails, and before they slept the berries were turned into wine and bottled and jugged and kegged. The champagne man was on hand to speak encouraging words. He even went out and did a little picking himself and turned over the berries to the widows and the fatherless.

One day a lightning rod man drove into the town. He had been there before. He knew how lazy everybody was, and he longed to throw strenuosity aside for awhile and mingle with them. No one on the tavern veranda—only a lame man in sight on the streets. The town was dead.

"Yaller fever?" he asked of the lame man.

"Nope."

"Cholera?"

"Nope."

"Smallpox around?"

"Nope."

"Then what does this mean?"

"Blackberries and $4 a day."

When the lightning man had heard the full particulars he shut one eye and held it closed for a long minute before saying:

"Jest so; jest so. Blackberry boom. Blackberry champagne. Blackberry stranger. Well, it ain't any of my funeral. If a town is bound and determined to kill herself it won't do no good for one man to talk."

"What's the matter?" asked the lame man.

"Oh, I ain't wanting to interrupt the fun, but lemme ask you if you ever heard that champagne was made of blackberries?"

"I never knowed how it was made."

"Well, mebbe you'll find out. When the inhabitants come back tonight jest tell 'em I was here and when I heard about the champagne business I winked my eye—the left eye. Tell 'em I never wink that eye unless there's something doing."

It was the last of the blackberry season. The bushes had been stripped for four miles around. On the last day of picking all the green ones had been taken as well. The pickers came back to find the champagne man gone. They came back to learn what the lightning man had said. They clung to their faith for a week, and then they decided that they had been cadoodled. Then they called a public meeting and "resolved that every durned critter in the town of Hawkinsville be lazier than ever to make up for this boom."

And that's why there have been no funerals in the town since. The people are too lazy to die.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL GREENSBORO, N.C.

And now they are accusing the State treasurer of making pauper counties.

It isn't recorded just where Lorimer stands on the proposition for the direct election of senators, but the writing is plain as to where he will stand when the people get a hearing.

There seems to be three wings of the Republican party—Mr. Taft, the insurgents, and the standpatters. It is about time for Baltimore to move to get them together.

The lower house of Congress favored Mr. Taft's reciprocity measure by a good-sized majority, but it is thought that it will take until next Christmas for it to make the trip through the Senate, unless Mr. Taft calls in extra help during the summer.

And now somebody has gone and suggested carving a new county out of Lincoln. Will the thing never stop? Charlotte Observer.

Never so long as the Legislature is willing. The idea will grow in popularity as the State grows, and every town that reaches a population of five to ten thousand will want a courthouse.

President Taft has sent to Congress his veto of a joint resolution for re-instatement of nine cadets who were sometime ago expelled from the West Point military academy for hazing. With the President as police of West Point and several lawless students of Yale and Cornell in prison, we may rest with reasonable certainty that there is no immediate danger of internal strife in this republic.

It is said that the current edition of Hampton's magazine is stored away because the American News Company will not handle it, and for the reason that the trust interests have succeeded in getting control of the American News Company. The magazine contains an attack on the Standard Oil Company, and that explains it. J. P. Morgan has already gained control of a magazine circulation of 3,000,000 and is reaching out after more. It is his determination to put a stop to the methods of such writers as Miss Tarbell, Ray Stannard Baker, and others who have got to themselves the name of muckrakers. Mr. Morgan has succeeded in cornering everything he has thus far gone after, but when he succeeds in throttling public opinion as mirrored in and moulded by the periodicals of this country, it will be when the American spirit of liberty and fair play has been spent by the force of its own momentum, which time will, however, probably come when Mr. Morgan's body is viewed as a mummy by another race about 3000 years hence.

The line of railroad from Mt. Airy to Wilmington, which was formerly known as the C. F. & Y. V. road, was divided and sold several years ago to two diffent systems, the Southern owning it from Mt. Airy to Sanford and the Coast Line owning the section thence to Wilmington. The sale of the road to these two companies is to be set aside, if a movement now on foot meets with legislative enactment, on the ground that the original charter contains a special clause against ever dividing the road, and that many of the bonds were issued with the distinct understanding that it should always remain intact. There is some doubt, of course, that the Legislature will undo the work of the previous assembly that, by special act, made the division and sale possible and even if it should, it is not probable that Greensboro will see the old C. F. & Y. V. once more a competitive line. So the matter of getting another system of railway is open to the progressive spirit of the town. By the way, what about that mass meeting for putting on foot a constructive plan for a road to Roxboro?

SETON TO LECTURE ON THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA IN ENGLAND.

Ernest Thompson Seton, Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America, has sailed for England. He will spend several months there lecturing at Eton, Oxford and large boy schools about the Boy Scouts of America and traveling about the country with General Sir R. S. S. Baden-Powell, the originator of the movement in its present form. Baden-Powell generously gives to both Daniel C. Beard, national scuot commissioner, and to Seton the credit for originating the Boy Scout movement. He says they wrote articles that suggested to him the project of a national organization of boys who should be taught how to enjoy themselves. Upon this idea Baden-Powell super-imposed the important aim of taking the boys in their adolescent stage, when they are enthusiastic over camp-life, wood craft and such things, to train their characters. It is this aim that is making the Boy Scout movement universal and making it appeal to men as the best boy-developer of the times.

FALL FATAL TO MISSIONARY

Woman Who Worked 34 Years In Africa Dies in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Record.

After a lifetime spent in foreign missionary fields, surrounded by perils of every description, Mrs. T. Spencer Ogden, the oldest woman Presbyterian missionary in the State, died at the home of her cousin, Mrs. W. W. Moorehead, at No. 1523 Pine street, yesterday morning as the result of a fall downstairs. The fatal accident occurring on the eve of the luncheon of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies, at which Mrs. Ogden was to have been a guest of honor, cast a veil of sadness over the affair, which was held at Horticultural Hall yesterday afternoon.

Last Saturday Mrs. Ogden came from her home at Cranbury Station, N. J., to the residence of Dr. W. W. Moorehead in order to attend the missionary jubilee in progress here. On Sunday afternoon the veteran missionary, who was 75 years old, started to come down from the second floor of the house, slipped on a rug and struck the side of her head just back of the right temple on the hardwood floor. In spite of everything that could be done she never regained consciousness and died of concussion of the brain shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Ogden was the daughter of Lewis L. and Elizabeth Combs, and was born in Perrineville, N. J., on January 12, 1836. She attended private schools in this city and New Jersey, and when 21 years old married Rev. T. Spencer Ogden, who was just starting for Africa as a missionary. The young bride accompanied her husband to the mission fields, going to Corisco, on the west coast of Africa, to work for the Presbyterian faith. Four years later her husband died. Soon after his death she gave up the work, brought her son to New Jersey, where she lived for 16 years, devoting her life to caring for her boy, whose health had been impaired by the surroundings of his infancy.

In 1877 ,when her son was 16 years old, the Presbyterian Board of Missions issued an urgent call for women volunteers, and in spite of the sad circumstances which had ended her first visit to Africa, Mrs. Ogden agreed to go. She was sent out to Baraka, on the west coast of Africa, to take charge of a boys' school, it being understood that she should return to help celebrate her son's twenty-first birthday. As she was preparing to come home on her well-earned furlough, she received word that her son had died.

For 25 years after her son's death she devoted her life to the school at Baraka, making occasional visits to this country for the sake of her failing health. Four years ago her condition became so bad that she was persuaded in view of her advanced age to give up the work.

To marry one's ideal would be fine, if we could only be assured of never waking up.

"I hope this expulsion of ours is not going to injure our social position," said Eve ruefully.

"I guess not," replied Adam. "They can't stop us from being one of the very first families, whatever they do."

MUCH INTEREST IN ELKS' FAIR

Already Number of People Outside City Have Offered to Contribute to Its Success—Additional Committees.

That the indoor fair to be held by the Greensboro Elks during the last week in March is attracting interest even outside the city was evidenced last night when a telegram was received from a Richmond house offering to donate 100 cans of baking powder toward the success of the event; another came from Raleigh offering a ton of coal; one from Durham offered several articles of value while numerous donations were made by Greensboro people. All of these, coming without solicitation, showed that the public was behind the fair. With such backing the Elks are assured of pulling off the greatest affair of its kind ever held in the state, the claim made by the promoters.

Decorative plans were discussed yesterday and the general opinion was that the building would be decorated with purple and white bunting, the Elk colors, American flags and electric lights. Three experts of the city have already volunteered to look after this part of the fair and the building promises to be as pretty as decorative genius can make it.

The enthusiasm shown at the lodge Wednesday night has, in a sense, radiated out into the city and yesterday many were asking questions and talking of the fair. Especially among the ladies of the city was interest at a high pitch. The social side of the fair had appealed to all for, as intended by those preparing the preliminary program, there will be something to the various social features that will appeal to people of every taste. A number of business men applied for space for advertising purposes and others wanted privileges to dispose of their wares. These latter of course were rejected, for the fair is planned solely as a week of gaiety—a week in which the people of Greensboro may feel that the Elks home and what the Elks have is theirs. It is to be a week of social events and the booths are expected to add much to the festivities, for in the sales made the main object will be fun for the purchaser—though there will of course be articles of value on sale for those in need.

The general committee held two meetings yesterday and the plans outlined briefly yesterday morning were fully discussed. In some instances fuller details were worked out, but until definite decisions are made there will be no announcements. Last night the general committee appointed three subcommittees as follows: On Publicity, A. B. Joyner, chairman; W. I. Underwood and R. D. Douglas. On tickets: W. S. Lyon, chairman; Garland A. Ricks and Arthur G. Coffin.

Soliciting: L. J. Brandt, chairman; J. E. Latham, J. W. Cone, E. Sternberger, E. M. Oettinger, C. M. Vanstory, J. T. Wade, D. H. Collins, Iriving Eldridge, B. MacKenzie, J. R. Young and E. G. West.

These committees will map out the details of their work at once.

Mr. T. R. Wall Takes French Leave of City and Business Associates Have No Clue As To His Whereabouts.

Mr. T. W. Wall, manager of the Wall Mercantile Company, left the city on Wednesday morning of last week, letting no one know where he was going or when to expect him back. He closed up his place of business on Tuesday night and was last seen near the station on Wednesday morning. Mr. T. G. Lowe, who is employed at the store, waited in vain for his appearance at the store and all efforts he made to locate him were fruitless.

Mr. H. C. Simpson, who is a partner in the business, directed Mr. Lowe to continue the business and sent up a clerk to assist in the work and straighten out the affairs, which, it was discovered, had been sadly neglected. Mr. Simpson stated that he had placed full confidence in the young man, who had been working for him for several years, and had not noticed that he was letting his accounts run behind. However, he is now getting the affairs in tangible shape and will continue to conduct the store as formerly. Mr. Wall's parents live at Revolution and naturally are very much disturbed because of his sudden departure from the city.

WOMEN AND MISSIONS.

Philadelphia Record.

Sir Leppel Griffin, whose travels in the United States filled him with loathing and contempt for everything American, was convinced by the observations made during a long residence in India that it was a great mistake to seek to change any of the customs of Asiatic life. The suttee, or burning of widows, he thought favorably of, and regarded it as none of the business of his government to interfere with it. The car of Juggernaut afforded a picturesque spectacle, and interference with it impressed him as most unreasonable.

But there are very few Sir Leppel Griffens. To most human beings of healthy sensibilities, who are accustomed to the institutions of Christendom, the lot of the poor and the weak in Asiatic countries, in Africa and the islands of the sea, is pitiful in the extreme, and women are weaker than men. All the burdens of superstition, ignorance and cruelty, which fall heavily enough upon the men of the poorer classes, fall with vastly greater weight upon women.

The late Professor Lecky was not pious in the churchman's sense, but every churchman may be profoundly appreciative of the account in his History of European Morals of what Christian civilization has done for women. It was the appreciation of this fact that moved women fifty years ago to organize those missionary societies of their own for their own sex, the fiftieth anniversary of which has been in process of celebration in this city during this week, and has been, or is to be, celebrated in all the principal cities of the country.

Besides the work of ordained clergymen conducted by the various communions, it was realized by the women that there must be missionaries who could reach the women and children in the zenanas or harems; that there must be women-doctors who could treat the women of Asia and Africa and who could teach them how to take care of themselves and their children; that there must be teachers to conduct schools for girls, and that the womanhood of Moslem and pagan countries must be awakened to its own worth.

The social results of fifty years have been enormous, and the great throngs that have attended the series of meetings here show how keen is the interest of the Christian women of America in their unfortunate sisters in several dark continents.

Hot oysters, sandwiches, etc., will be on sale at the bazaar to be held by the Ladies of the Moravian church Friday and Saturday evenings, from 5 to 10 o'clock, in the dining room in rear of the Public Service Company's office. The ladies will also have on sale aprons and all kinds of fancy work, in fact an almost innumerable display of handy articles of material worth. Be sure to call on the ladies and look their lines over. Also get your supper from them. 1t

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

Howard Gardner, the popular druggist is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist Gardner that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to let him sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage ot this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, Howard Gardner will return your money.

RAISING THE MAINE.

How the Work is Being Done Around the Warship in the Harbor of Havana.

Havana Cor. N. Y. American.

A series of cylinders—20 in number—forming a cofferdam, are being sunk in the water, silt and mud around the wreck. These cylinders when completed, will form an egg-shaped dam encircling the wreck. This dam will be made water-tight and the water inside pumped out. Hydraulic pumps will suck out the mud and the Maine and her fatal wounds will be exposed.

The construction of this series of cylinders is the work now under way. Eight of the twenty cylinders are down now. They are made of Lackawanna sheet steel pilings, and about 150 piles are needed for each. Each cylinder is 50 feet in diameter and each pile is 75 feet in length.

Steam hammers mounted on barges are used to drive these piles, and four of them are at work at the same time. The bed of the harbor is soft down to about 60 feet. The first four or five feet is slush, then an incipient soft coral mud for about 25 feet. Below this the piles must be driven into from 10 to 15 feet of stiff clay.

As the cylinders are completed each is filled with clay, scooped up by an immense steam dredger from a bank near Regla. Gradually the clay forces the water out and occupies the space within.

The cylinders are connected by an arc on the outside, which joins each cylinder by a "three-way" pile. The pocket between the arc and the cylinders will also be filled with clay and thus prevent leakage between the cylinders. In other words, there will be 20 big, round affairs that look like gas tanks, filled with clay and locked together around the sunken wreck. These will easily hold a 30-foot head of water. It will take, it is calculated, about two days to pump the water out of the space within the circle of cylindrical gas-tank affairs and more time to suck the mud out.

Every now and then wreckage is struck which must be removed before the piles are driven. This isn't necessarily wreckage from the Maine. The storms and collisions and explosions and scuttlings of centuries have contributed by little and by large to the appalling total of the wreckage that fills the harbor. In Havana's smiling bay 131 wrecks are charted. How many lie in the mud stratum beneath the charted ones no man may know. Spanish neglect and indolence have allowed those wrecks to remain through the years and the centuries. Cuban enterprise, now awakened, proposes at no late date to dredge and clear the entire harbor. Already contracts have been made with this end in view.

After the vessel is "exposed" the work of raising the Maine will begin How to proceed, what course to pursue, what equipment will be required, all these are questions that only time and the preliminary work of exposing the wreck to view can answer. For no one knows the vessel's condition. No one can say with accuracy whether or not the vessel can be floated. If it be humanly possible, the holes in the ships' sides will be patched up, the water let in through the dam cylinders and the hulk floated.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Texas, as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. "Nature's Gift from the Sunny South"

Cottolene

Sunshine means Purity

Many people believe with Moses, the great law-giver, that the source of lard is unclean. The source of Cottolene is absolutely clean and wholesome, and the product is as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South; it is a product of Nature, refined by our exclusive process. The ancestry of lard is not so clean or inviting. Lard never has been, never can be, anything more or less than unwholesome hog fat.

Cottolene makes food that any stomach can digest, while authorities state that lard is the cause of nine-tenths of all indigestion.

Cottolene is the best frying and shortening medium made to-day. Wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has always been granted Highest Awards.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Corrected His Error.

One of these deeply absorbed gentlemen, sitting on a rear seat, thought he knew a person sitting in front and was about to speak to him when, the stranger by chance turning a little, the professor saw that he was mistaken.

Nevertheless, touching him on the shoulder, he remarked politely:

"You will excuse me, but you are not the person I thought you were."

Why Not a Piano Now in Your Home?

There Is No Reason Why You Shouldn't Have a Piano. We Can Supply Your Needs.

The sale of pianos increases each season in our warerooms. Music lovers are realizing that a piano is a necessity in the home. For the children to study—to keep the young folks home—to add an air of refinement.

You have the choice here from a magnificent stock, and no matter what you want, we can supply you.

You can buy the famous Kimball, Hallet & Davis, Conway, Whitney, and other well-known pianos here at reasonable prices and on convenient terms, a little each month or week. Do not deny yourself what you want most.

ABOUT PRICES. If you want the best you can buy at $260, we have such a piano. Or if you wish to pay less, we can supply you. Then, $300 will buy a famous Conway or Whitney, while the highest grade pianos—Kimball and Hallet & Davis—sell from $365 up.

Drop a line for our catalogues and book on piano construction, or, better still, come in and examine the stock. Learn the advantages of our system of marking each piano with the lowest possible price tag.

A Dream and Its Sequel.

"In one of the East Indian border wars there was engaged an officer of high repute, the member of an ancient county family," says Mrs. Mayo in "Recollections of Fifty Years." One night the laird, its head, started from his sleep, exclaiming:

"'There's the shot that has killed my brother!'

"His wife told him it was but a dream. He must have given an anxious thought to his brothers before going to sleep. Next day the pair were in the garden directing their gardeners when the laird suddenly exclaimed:

"'Do you hear the bagpipes?'

"'No,' answered the lady. 'I can hear nothing. I am sure there is no sound.'

"'Strange,' said the laird, 'for I can even hear what is played. It is "The Flowers o' the Forest 'Are A' Wefe Away."'

"A few hours later came the telegram reporting that the brother had been shot down by some border warrior and over his lonely grave the men of his regiment had played the pathetic air whose mysterious echo seemed to have reached the laird."

Shakespeare's Definition of Poetry.

What a pity it is that Shakespeare ever used that phrase "fine frenzy!" It has become a fuddlesome factor in the framing of foolish fancies. It is to the honor of Shakespeare, however, that he came nearer to giving the world the true definition of poetry than has any other man, for he did explain what constitutes the true art of poetry making, and from this we are enabled to know what Shakespeare considered poetry. Curiously enough, it is in the very passage where Shakespeare uses that unfortunate phrase "fine frenzy." Let us quote:

The poet's eye, in a fine frenzy rolling,
Doth glance from heaven to earth, from earth to heaven,
And as imagination bodies forth
The forms of things unknown the poet's pen
Turns them to shapes and gives to airy nothing
A local habitation and a name.

The Historic City of Delhi.

Delhi is the most historic city in all India. It may not be the oldest, although it lays claim to a respectable middle age, dating from 1000 B. C. At that time the master of Delhi called himself emperor of all the world, and emperors, at least of India, have ruled there almost ever since. Old Delhi, without the walls, is a city of picturesque ruins. Imperial Delhi, the modern city, was created by Shah Jehan, a contemporary of Queen Elizabeth. From the date of the first Mohammedan incursion, A. D. 715, perpetual warfare raged round Delhi until at length she yielded to the irresistible power of the Moguls. The city was alternately Mohammedan and Hindu during a great many years and finally, in 1803, was made British by General Lake. Delhi has the finest and largest mosque in India. It took 5,000 men six years to build it. The noble tomb of the Emperor Humayan marks the change of creed which followed the Moslem invasion, while the observatory of Jai Singh and the deserted hall of the seventy columns recall the short triumph of Brahmanism.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you success. 520 Laura avenue."

Almost Providential.

"I understand your house was entered by burglars last night, Mrs. Jipes," said the reporter. "What did they carry away?"

"O, they got a gold spoon or two, I believe, and a lot of silver plate," answered the smiling matron; "but thank goodness, they overlooked two books of trading stamps that I've been nearly three years in filling."—Chicago Tribune.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute atack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Howard Gardner.

FARMERS' WEEK AT A. & M. COLLEGE

Practical Instruction to Be Given At Institution For Colored Race Next Week—No Tuition Will Be Charged and Board Can Be Secured For $2 Per Week.

The following has been sent out regarding Farmers' Week to be held at the A. & M. College next week:

The Farmers' Week held by the A. & M. College for the colored race this winter promises to be the best ever held. You will remember that a whole week of practical instruction, dealing directly with farm work will be given by experts from the State Department of Agriculture at Raleigh, and the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. beginning February 21, and continuing through February 25.

Thursday, February 23 will be "Seed Corn Day" and will be in charge of Mr. C. R. Hudson, state agent in charge of Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Mr. Hudson is a government seed corn expert and it will pay you to hear him talk seed corn. Bring a few ears of your seed corn with you and have Mr. Hudson to test it for you.

In addition to Mr. Hudson we will have from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Mr. J. M. Stedman, Farmers' Institute Specialist and Prof. C. L. Goodrich, expert in farm management.

From the State Department of Agriculture we will have Prof. J. L. Burgess, who will lecture on soils and fertilizers; Prof. Franklin Sherman, Jr., on insect pests and their remedies; Dr. W. C. Chrisman, on diseases of live stock and their treatment; Prof. J. A. Conover on live stock and dairying and Prof. Hutt on fruit growing.

No tuition will be charged. Board can be secured in the college dining hall for $2.00 for the week and lodging so far as possible will be furnished in the dormitories free.

We will be glad to have you and your neighbors and friends with us for the full week or as long as you may stay.

For further information, address J. H. Bluford, Director Agricultural Department, or Jas. B. Dudley, President.

FARMERS' UNION TO MEET.

Adjourned Session to Be Held Here Saturday, February 25—Full Attendance Desired.

An adjourned meeting of the Guilford County Farmers' Union will be held in Greensboro on Saturday, Feb. 25. Secretary D. A. Montgomery has sent out the following regarding the meeting:

"An adjourned meeting of the Guilford County Farmers' Union will convene in Greensboro on Saturday, February 25, at 10 o'clock a. m. I take this method of urging every local in Guilford county to send a full delegation to this meeting, as we have some very important business to transact, and we cannot do so satisfactorily unless the different locals will take an interest and help us out in the work. Remember, brethren, that in union there is strength. There is certainly a better day dawning in the not far distant future for the farmer, if we will but reach out and grasp the opportunity that is passing."

Lemon Grown In Greensboro.

Mr. R. J. Whittington, of the firm Whitting Bros., grocers, had on display in his store yesterday a lemon weighing one and a half pounds. The lemon was grown at Mr. Whittington's home on East Bragg street and is a healthy specimen of that variety of fruit. Mr. Whittington states that seven lemons grew on the tree in his yard this year and he has enjoyed a number of lemon pies made of home grown lemons, with lemonade to match.

Rev. G. Mendelsohn Invited To Roanoke.

Rabbi G. Mendelsohn left last night to spend a few days in Roanoke. He has received a call from the Jewish congregation in that city and goes there to look over the field. He will hold a service while there. Returning to Greensboro he will come by way of Norfolk where he will spend a day or so. In his absence the Sunday school will be in the care of Miss. Spear, Miss Sarah Sternberger and Mr. Samuel Temko.
